Answer: B

Explanation:

Compared to Monitor Mode, Low-Impact Mode incrementally increases the security level of the network by configuring an ingress port ACL on the open access TrustSec-enabled port. This provides basic connectivity for guests, contractors, and unauthenticated hosts while selectively limiting access, introducing a higher level of security. Access can be differentiated based on successful authentication and authorization by combining downloadable access control lists (dACLs) with the TrustSec-enabled port, which uses 802.1X, MAC Authentication Bypass (MAB), and/or web authentication.
