NEW QUESTION: 3

An organization has decided to consolidate storage and move all of its backups and archives to Amazon S3. With all of the data gathered into a hierarchy under a single directory, the organization determines there is 70 TB data that needs to be uploaded. The organization currently has a 150-Mbps connection with 10 people working at the location.

Which service would be the MOST efficient way to transfer this data to Amazon S3?

- A. AWS Direct Connect
- B. AWS Snowball
- C. AWS Storage Gateway
- D. Amazon S3 Transfer Acceleration

Answer: B

Explanation:

If the data transfer would take more than a week then it is more efficient to use Snowball (for 70TB).

The 150MB, with full speed (using the maximum Acceleration on the world) requires around ~43 days 5 hours 2 minutes to transfer the 70TB to AWS. Then this is a waste of time, resources, and could be more expensive than snowball (taking into consideration that the 10 people can not use the 150MB as it is busy uploading).

AWS Storage Gateway is not meant for such a single time archiving.

AWS Direct Connect is too expensive for such one time job.
