NEW QUESTION: 1

Your company has a server named DC1 that runs Windows Server 2008 R2. Server1 has the DHCP Server server role installed. You find that a desktop computer named Computer1 is unable to obtain an IP configuration from the DHCP server.

You install the Microsoft Network Monitor 3.0 application on Server1. You enable P-mode in the Network Monitor application configuration.

You plan to capture only the DHCP server-related traffic between Server1 and Computer1. The network interface configuration for the two computers is shown in the following table.

You need to build a filter in the Network Monitor application to capture the DHCP traffic between Server1 and Computer1. Which filter should you use?

- A. IPv4.Address == 192.168.2.1 && DHCP
- B. IPv4.Address == 169.254.15.84 && DHCP
- C. Ethernet.Address == 0x001731D55EFF && DHCP
- D. Ethernet.Address == 0x000A5E1C7F67 && DHCP

Answer: C

Explanation:

Network Monitor is being run from Server1. In order to view only DHCP traffic between Server1 and Computer1, we must specify a filter that is specific to Computer1. Because Computer1 cannot receive an IP from the DHCP server, we should use the Ethernet.Address filter, assigning it to the MAC of Computer1 ( 0x001731D55EFF) If the Ethernet.Address filter is applied to 0x000A5E1C7F67 (the MAC of Server1), we would see all DHCP traffic on Server1 (the capture server). Similarly, the IPv4.Address filter cannot be used for 192.168.2.1 because this is an APIPA address; the client is not guaranteed to receive this each time it tries (and fails) to receive a reservation.

Die strategische Ausrichtung konzentriert sich in erster Linie auf die Verknüpfung von Geschäfts- und IT-Plänen. Bei der Wertlieferung geht es darum, das Wertversprechen während des gesamten Lieferzyklus auszuführen. Beim Ressourcenmanagement geht es um die optimale Investition in und ordnungsgemäße Verwaltung kritischer IT-Ressourcen.
