Explanation:

Priorities designated as intermediate by the nurse are those that are not urgent. They do not affect the client's immediate physiological status. This does not imply that they are not important or not necessary.

Intermediate priorities might still require the skill level of

Index Storage Type

Designing a partitioned index independently (unaligned) of the base table can be useful in the following cases:

- The base table has not been partitioned.
- The index key is unique and it does not contain the partitioning column of the table.
- You want the base table to participate in collocated joins with more tables using different join columns.
