Answer: D

Explanation:
Explanation

Since the number of calls is just a few times a week, there are many open source systems such as Jenkins which can be used as CI based systems.

Jenkins can be used as an extensible automation server, Jenkins can be used as a simple CI server or turned into the continuous delivery hub for any project.

For more information on the Jenkins CI tool please refer to the below link:

Option A and C are partially correct, but since you just have 5 deployments per week, having separate instances which consume costs is not required. Option B is partially correct, but again having a separate system such as Opswork for such a low number of deployments is not required.

Explanation:

Microsoft Azure Rights Management (previously known as Windows Azure Active Directory Rights Management). To be able to decrypt rights protected documents you need to make sure that Microsoft Azure Rights Management is set up. Also you will need to enable a SuperUser account because The Active Directory Rights Management Services (AD RMS) super users group is a special group that has full control over all rights-protected content managed by the cluster. Its members are granted full owner rights in all use licenses that are issued by the AD RMS cluster on which the super users group is configured.

This means that members of this group can decrypt any rights-protected content file and remove rights- protection from it.

The super users group is not enabled and is not assigned a group by default.

This can be done by running the appropriate commands in sequence which are:

```
Import-Module AADRM
```

```
Connect-AADRMSservice
```

```
Enable-AADRM
```

```
Enable-AADRMSuperUserFeature
```
